

Bio

Jon “Wally” Prather and Dave Marcus

Wally Prather

Senior Intelligence Analyst, Advanced Programs Group’s Research and Intelligence Team, McAfee

Jon “Wally” Prather is a seasoned intelligence professional with a wide range of subject matter expertise and is the Senior Intelligence Analyst for McAfee’s Advanced Programs Group (APG). Wally is proficient in multiple intelligence disciplines including HUMINT Targeting, HVI Targeteer, and Network Analyst with 15 years’ experience, primarily in maritime counterterrorism/ counterinsurgency operations with the US Marine Corps, Special Operations and Irregular Warfare. Wally has operational experience providing in-depth intelligence analysis and direct support to combat and interagency operations in the Middle East, Southeast Asia, and Africa with over four years deployed to combat, hostile and sensitive environments to include East Africa, Afghanistan, and Iraq.

Dave Marcus

Principal Engineer, Advanced Programs Group’s Research and Intelligence Team, McAfee

Dave Marcus currently serves as director of McAfee’s Advanced Programs Group research and intelligence team. His responsibilities includes advanced threat research, threat intelligence projects, hardware-assisted security development, open source intelligence projects as well as SCADA/ICS research. As one of McAfee’s Principal Engineers he is also a recognized technical leader and helps drive its technical direction and roadmap.

In his spare time he lifts heavy things and is a family man.